

Health Reimbursement Arrangements

Rest assured—
your health expenses are covered.

A Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA) provides funds for you to pay for qualified health care expenses.

WHAT DOES IT COVER?

Use your employer-funded HRA to pay for health care costs for you and your family!

Easy as 1, 2, 3

- 1 Your employer contributes tax-free funds to your account.
- 2 Use those funds for you or your family's qualified health care expenses, including deductibles, copays, prescriptions, and more.
- 3 Submit proof of the expense, and you'll be reimbursed from your allowance amount.

SAVE MONEY TODAY

Your employer is giving you a huge benefit—the gift of health care funds! Imagine how your budget will change without this additional expense.

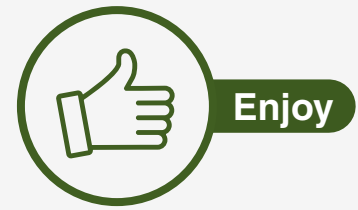

Funds that are in your HRA aren't counted as part of your earnings. So when you pay your income tax, you're paying less than you would have if all your money was considered income. Less taxes paid, and more money to ensure health and well-being!

PERSONAL AND FINANCIAL BENEFITS

— Flexibility

There are thousands of eligible expenses for your HRA, even including health care essentials for your entire family and common out-of-pocket costs. You'll be surprised at how many ordinary items and services are eligible!

— Easy to Access

HRA funds are available on your payment card. You can view your balance any time online, through ConnectYourCare's myCYC® mobile app and online portal, or you can call for it over the phone.

— Rapid Reimbursement

Paying for health care expenses is easy. Either use your payment card or quickly and easily create your claim online. Once you submit receipts, you will be reimbursed.

Your HRA covers you—plus your family—for a wide variety of items and services.

Check with your employer on what medical expenses are eligible under your plan.
